FlexAdvantage Series

FlexAdvantage complements your Medicare Advantage plan by paying you cash to cover your out-of-pocket copays and other expenses. The federal limit for the maximum out of pocket expense is now as much as $6,700 in network and $10,000 out of network. You reach these benefit levels typically through daily copayments for various services. These bills may range from $50 to $500 per day based on the Medicare plan you select and the healthcare service you use.

Flex Benefits allows you to adjust your coverage to fit that underlying plan with first dollar cash benefits.

Critical Illness Insurance

If Critical Illness coverage is selected, the plan will provide benefits for first-ever diagnosis of specifically named conditions or procedures until the plan reaches the maximum lifetime benefit. The percentage of the benefit paid varies based on the illness diagnosed. There is a 30-day waiting period before a covered critical illness condition or procedure becomes eligible for benefit consideration. The plan pays 100% of the benefit amount for spouses and 50% for dependents. Not available in all states. Please review the policy certificate for complete details.

How Benefits Are Paid for Critical Illness Insurance

- If a 100% benefit is paid for a covered condition or procedure, no further benefits for that condition or procedure will be paid, except as provided under the recurrence benefit.
- If the initial payment is not a 100% benefit, subsequent benefits payable will be a percentage of the benefit amount until the total sum of all payments for covered conditions or covered procedures equals the benefit amount. No further benefits will be payable to a covered condition or covered procedure, except as provided in the recurrence benefit.
- Once benefits are claimed for one critical illness, benefits are payable for remaining critical illnesses up to the lifetime benefit amount. Once the lifetime benefit amount has been paid for a covered person, coverage for that covered person terminates and no further benefits are payable for that covered person.
